The nose displays a nice complexity: woody and smoky notes blend with the more fruity and spicy ones. After a dense attack on the palate, a slight evolution. A mid palate characterized by a nice acidity which gives the wine freshness. Tannins add a slightly more austere character at the end.

Vintage 2015

16/20 Jancis Robinson : Dark purplish crimson. Rather unusually comfortable and resolved on the nose. Lifted, very dry, even reminds me a little of Malbec. Correct. Bone dry. Medium weight and relatively accessible.
